What We Do

Public Policy Advocacy

We advocate to all levels of government for legislation, programs, and policy that help support the health and well-being of children and youth.

Education

Our professional development program is designed to meet the learning needs of child and youth health care providers at every stage of their career.

Clinical Practice

Our position statements, practice points, clinical tools, and educational resources are designed to ensure that health care professionals can deliver the best possible care to children and youth.

Journal: Paediatrics & Child Health

Paediatrics & Child Health (PCH) is the official journal of the Canadian Paediatric Society, and the only peer-reviewed paediatric journal in Canada. Its mission is to advocate for the health and well-being of all Canadian children and youth and to educate child and youth health professionals across the country.
